Youthful Orators To Vie In Contest This Sunday

At least five young Japanese Canadians from London, Hamilton and Toronto 20 years of age and under will be vying for the JCCA Challenge Trophy in Toronto JCCA's second Ontario-Wide Oratorical Contest this Sunday, Nov. 9, at the Canadian Legion Hall from 8 p.m.

Returning to the scene of his triumph will be last year's winner, David Suzuki, 16, of London, who will speak on the topic, "Let Freedom Ring". Another repeater is Tad Suzuki, 20, of Hamilton, who won third prize last year.

Newcomers to the scene will be Miss Gerry Suzuki, 15, of London, who will speak on "Public Speaking"; Lucy Kono, 17, of Toronto, on the topic, "The United Nations"; and Dave Kobayashi, 20, of Toronto, a student at the Ontario College of Art, who will talk on Canadian Art.

It is also possible that several other contestants may enter before the deadline closes today.

The youthful orators will not only be competing for the Challenge Trophy but also for a total of $200 in cash awards.

A panel of three of four Occidental adjudicators from the Public Speaking Division of the Women's Patriotic League will be on hand to judge the speakers. They are Mrs. Charles Byrne; Mrs. John Miller, past president of the Canadian Literary Ass'n. and member of the Shakespeare Society and the Dickens Fellowship; Mr. Gerald Reinboth; and possibly Mr. John Miller who is past president of the Public Speaking Ass'n.

Usual oratorical rules will prevail with speakers limited to 10 minutes.

Hugo Yamamoto will act as chairman and there will be a

Bilingual Talk

The Montreal taxi-driver didn't understand English at all and my knowledge of French conversation is practically non-existent. With an effort I can bravely bring out standard albeit colorful expressions like "cherchez la femme" and things similar but which aren't very useful in a pinch.

"Ou allez-vous?" (or something to that effect), he queried with that particular tone of voice that gives French such a musical lilt.

"La rue St. Catherine et St. Denis", I replied, feeling proud at whipping that one back. Pretty cosmopolitan of myself I thought.

By this time he had slipped into second gear and drove around the corner, headed for downtown Montreal. The sun was caressing the cleanly spaced houses with Indian Summerish restraint, invitingly warm and mischievous.

"Il fait beau temps", I said, half to myself, bringing out a remnant of my high school French which I had labored over and had so little opportunity to use except for reading recipes and such things printed in both English and French on the back of cans of food.

My driver looked at me with quizzical surprise. Then he went into a typical Gallic spree of words which was quite unintelligible stuff to me. I wished I had kept quiet and not had the cheek to show off.

He continued merrily like the proverbial brook, on and on, while I sank lower into the seat, only occasionally sneaking glances at Mount Royal brooding in the distance under a blue-grey haze. I was helplessly in the grip of a masterful monopolizer of conversation after my innocent attempt at passing off a French phrase. The only thing peculiar about the whole thing was that he didn't realize that I was completely uncomprehending although I doubt whether that would have made any difference. "Oui, oui", I kept muttering feebly.

By the time we got downtown through the crowds of people swirling through the streets, as unusual in a Canadian city on a Sunday afternoon, my driver with the inexhaustible flow of French deposited me opposite the hotel with something that sounded like, "Bon voyage, mon garcon."

Scraps of high school French floated disjointedly in my mind, and I said, "A bientot, monsieur", vaguely wondering what it meant, and wistfully thinking that it would be good to get back into uttering monosyllables in English again.

'Tokyo Johnny' Faces Possible Death Sentence As Trial Opens In New York

NEW YORK — Facing a possible death penalty if convicted, former Army Sgt. John David Provoo of Sausalito, Calif., who is nicknamed "Tokyo Johnny", went on trial on treason charges in New York federal court last week. The trial is expected to last from two to three months.

The 12-count indictment accuses the 35-year-old Provoo of informing on his comrades in a wartime Japanese prison camp, of beating an American soldier and of broadcasting enemy propaganda.

Witnesses who will testify against Provoo are expected to include 20 Japanese citizens, among them Seitaro Fujita, a convicted war criminal now serving a 30-year murder sentence. Fujita had put to death Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson after Provoo had informed on the American officer.

Provoo is also accused of beating an American soldier who refused to turn his boots over to a Japanese officer and of broadcasting over Tokyo Radio to undermine the morale of U. S. troops.

A bank clerk in San Francisco before the war, Provoo enlisted in the Army in 1941 and was captured by the Japanese at Corregidor in the Phillipines in 1942. He is alleged to have shaved his head and donned the robes of a Buddhist priest to convince his captors of his sympathy and his desire for assistance.

The trial opened more than two years after his arrest on Sept. 9, 1949, upon receiving an administrative discharge—neither honorable or dishonorable—at Governors Island, N. Y.

His defense had sought on the opening day of the trial the dismissal of the treason charges, claiming that the ex-soldier was cleared of all charges by his discharge from the Army. Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan, however, turned down the claim. He will be tried by a jury of seven woman and five men.

One of the chief witnesses as the trial went into its first week was Hawaiian-born Nisei Capt. Richard M. Sakakida of the Air Force's Office of Special Investigation in Tokyo who served as interpreter for two years for the Japanese as a prisoner of war. He was a U.S. Army sergeant in Manila when he had interviewed Provoo when the latter sought a job as a Japanese interpreter and had expressed pro-Japanese sentiments.

Invite Montreal JC's To New French Classes

MONTREAL — Japanese Canadians in Montreal are invited to attend a new series of French Conversation Classes in which movies and other visual means will be used to foster conversation and develop an interest in France and French Culture.

French-speaking people will also attend and volunteer in free conversation with the students. Classes are being held at 308 St. Catherine St. East (near St. Denis) on Wednesday from 8 p.m. They will start from November 5.

Minister Lectures Weekly Over Radio

KELOWNA, B. C. — A lecture on Christianity is being given every Sunday over radio station CKOV, Kelowna, from 7:30 a.m. to 8 a.m. by Rev. Hideo Aoki of the Japan Evangelistic Band, in both English and Japanese.

Rev. Aoki who is also pastor and resides in San Jose, Calif., started his Sunday broadcasts on Nov. 2.

Former NC Editor's Father Dies in Japan

TOKYO — Former Free Methodist minister in Canada, 80-year-old Rev. Jengo Higashi died on Oct. 22, following a collision with an automobile in Tokyo, Japan. Despite immediate blood transfusion, he succumbed shortly after from a haemorrhage.

He is the father of Shinobu Higashi, first editor of The New Canadian, who is presently with the Kyodo News Agency in Japan.

Strange Flotsam Washes Ashore

OSHIMA ISLAND, Japan — Hardy Oshima islanders can take most things in their stride that a capricious sea throws on their beaches.

But they had something to talk about last week when a body of a 5-year-old male elephant weighing half a ton rode in with the waves on Kasamatsu Beach.

A shipping line solved the mystery by disclosing that the elephant was one of a pair bought by a Japanese traveller which had died aboard ship and was given a burial at sea.

Time Nears For 1952 Xmas Issue

As in other years, The New Canadian will be printing its special year-end Christmas Issue complete with articles, stories, and other literary efforts, together with personal, club and business greetings and pictures.

Through the Christmas Issue, readers, advertisers, organizations and business firms can extend their holiday greetings to Japanese Canadians throughout the country.

Short stories, articles, poems, and other literary contributions as well as photographs are welcomed. It is surprising how fast and how demandingly deadlines can approach, therefore, contributions should be sent as soon as possible.

歸敬式の有難さ

今回の歸敬式は御門主光照猊下直々ざおさづけ下さいます。圓満にして崇高なる御門主を見挙るとき誰しも頭を下げて拜する思ひがする。生涯を清める有り難い尊い儀式です。老人も若きも深い御縁を喜ぶことができます。

こんな話しがあります。

健康にして美はしき娘はすくすくと伸びて幸にも良縁に恵まれて遠地に嫁入りした。しかし人の運命はわからないもので第二世界大戦によつて親子は何千里かなたに分れ分れとなつた。可愛ゆい子供には恵まれたが好事魔多しとか遠地で不治の病にかゝり醫師の勧めによつて幼き子供も引離し療養所の生活をすることになつた。相したう魂は遠く離れて母を戀ふ幼子、子を求める母親。十年の苦しい生活は續いたしかし遂にいとし子の顔もみず母にも會へず死の旅立をした。老ひし母は我が子の十年の歳月を思ひ悲涙にむせぶのであつたが、あの娘は十九の年に御連枝様によつてオカミソリをいたゞいてゐた。いかに不幸なる運命のなかにもすくわれてゆく魂を思ひ静かに合掌しつゝなぐさめられてゐた。

御門主歡迎の辭

開教使 生田眞成

遠祖の御跡をしたう門信徒として御門主の御巡錫にあうことは、一生一代にないよろこびのきわみであります。

我々は眞心をもつて御一行をお迎えするばかりであります。御門主のおとづれは社會情勢や風俗のちがう加奈陀において佛陀の教えがどんなふうに日常生活に解けこむかを教わて下さることと喜んでいる。又御門主は佛典の英譯、英語傳導等に關し御熱心に御研究していられる。

「一八九九年即ち今から五十三年前に明如上人が海外布教を痛感され園田、西島の兩淵教使を北米に派遣しその祖孫の光照門主が白人傳道に意を用いられることは、くしき因縁である。

又御門主は米加の實際社會を視察し、民主々義の妙理を出來得る限り知り、民主々義の理想、眞義を故國の民衆に傳え、正直に導きたいと念じていられる。

世界平和に關しても一つの信念を持つていられることはその著『教を仰ぐ』によつて知ることがうかがわれる。

門主として海外同胞慰問の巡錫は始めてである。我々はこのお心を十分に果して頂く樣に念願する。

どちらが米大統領となるか
世界注視のうちに四日投票行う

米國大統領選擧は四日に擧行されたが、本紙は選擧當日の正午すぎに五日付を印刷するので、選擧結果は次號に譲らなければならない。しかし選擧日當夜の人氣を見ると、民主黨候補のアドレイ・スチーヴンソン氏が一〇州で一〇〇票得票は堅いところであり、アイゼンハワー元帥は一一州で七三票は確實とみられているが、ア元帥の優勢なる諸州の合計票は一八三でアドレイ氏は九七、未決定は七八となつている。今回の大統領選擧ほど人氣が伯仲している選擧はめずらしく、同時にその結果がどうなるかは豫測を許さぬものがあるといわれている

兩候補の人氣伯仲

【プリンストン發】ギャラップ世論調査が先週金曜日までの米大統領選擧に對する人氣投票の統計によると、兩候補者は互角の人氣で大詰めに迫つている事を示している。しかし、アドレイ・スチーヴンソン氏の前週來よりの人氣がそのまゝ今週にまで持ち續けられるとすればスチーヴンソン氏は人氣投票で勝利者になるだろうと見られている。ギャロップ世論調査では『もし大統領選擧が今日行われるとすれば、どちらの候補者に投票しますか。アイゼンハワーかスチーヴンソンか』という質問に對して次の回答を得た△ア元帥四七△スチーヴンソン四〇△未決定一三

米投票者は選擧日の前日まで誰に投票しようかと迷つている者が十人のうち一人あるわけで、彼等の投票振りによつて兩候補者の運命がきまるだろうとさえいわれている

ホール建設案 具体化へ一歩進む
トロント市内各團体代表者會議で

トロント市市協一世部が提議していた日系人ホール(文化會館)建設案は、三年前の各團体代表者會議に於てその趣旨が賛成され爾來研究委員會により研究を重ねてきたが、十一月一日開催の市内團体代表者會議に於ては研究委員會の報告せる第二案を基礎にして種々意見を交換した結果、これに着手することに賛同しその實行に取りかかることを申し合せた。第二案の要點は▲資金は大体五万弗程度▲最低百名前後を收容し得る集會室、市協その他の事務所、娯樂室、柔道道場、少數の寢室を設ける▲出來得れば將來大ホールを増設する敷地を持つた所を選ぶというのであり、右の結果を各團体に通知して檢討を求め今年中に更に代表者會議を開いて實行委員會を設け、案の實現をはかるところまで話が進捗した。なお

▲オンタリオ州市協では老齡者慰安所を設置する計畫を立て、今春ラッフルを發行し既にその運動費を六百七十餘弗を集めているが、右のトロント市内各團体のホール建設案と合流するように希望されたのに對し責任者はその氣持があることをもらしている

▲壽會にも老齡者慰安所設置の話があつたが、市協一世部の發案をきき、これまたこの案に合流することになつている

ことが發表されているのでオンタリオ州の中心地たるトロントに州内日系人一般のためのホールや慰安所を設置しようという案は、一本化された協力によつて實現への氣運が進みつつあるわけである

日本品ダンプせずと井口大使演說

【モントリオル發】通商を增進することによつてのみ日本國民の生活水準を向上することが出來るのであり、そうすることによつて日本は自由國家群のよりよい顧客となり、緊密な友好國となり得るのであると駐カナダ井口大使は三日當市カナデアン・クラブ席上で次の要點の如き演說を行つに

△戰前には製造業者や輸出業者の中には不公正な通商慣例もあつたが終戰とともに日本政府はこれを嚴禁、違反者はライセンス取上げのほか嚴罰を課せられる法律が立法化された

△カナダに日本品が入つてくることに一部業界から苦情の申出があつて二つの大きい理由をあげている。第一はカナダ市場にチープな商品をダンプされることだということと第二に日本品のコストは低賃銀のためにカナダ品のコストとくらべものにならず、あんまりだということである

△しかしこれは公正通商方針の下に變更された。日本の勞務者の賃銀にくらべるとカナダの勞働者の賃銀はずつと高いことは事實である。日本では四十弗の月給をとれば、勞働者は一家五人を安易に養つていけることが出來る

△先般の總選擧結果は日本國民が共産主義をいかに嫌つているかをハツキリと立證させたものであり、日本は西歐民主國家群の中に興することを明らかにすると共にその方向に邁進していくものと思う

應じ切れぬ大量注文
米國の凶作で小麥の需要激增

【ウイニペッグ發】西部カナダは未曾有の小麥豐年とその收穫も順調におわつたというばかりでなく、カナダ小麥の需要はおびたゞしく、輸出面は最高記錄に輝くものと喜んでいる。小麥豐年で國際小麥協定國向けに送つたあとはどれほど過剰小麥の處分に惱まねばならないかと心配されていたが、米國の冬季小麥耕作地域がひどいヒデリのために大凶作となつたためにカナダ小麥の海外需要が急增している有様なのだが、海港までの輸送機關が手一杯で、これ以上の小麥は運び切れないと悲鳴をあげている。晩香坡の小麥積出しも來年の七月末までギッシリと豫約済みとなつており、海外から注文は降るように來るが、送り出し港までの運送と船積込みがどうにもならずに困つている

カナダ最大の都市モントリオルがなんといつてもカナダ人に最も人氣ある都市であることがカナダ世論調査結果によつて明らかとなつた。すなわち「カナダのどの都市が最も面白いと思いますか」という質問に對して(パーセント)

△モントリオル二二△トロント一三△ケベック一二△オタワ一〇△バンクーバー九△エドモントン八△其他という回答を得ており、全國的に見てモントリオル市が一番面白い社會であり、次にトロント、ケベック、オタワの順序となつているが、ではなぜ面白いと思うかという理由に對しては古蹟があること、娯樂が多いこと、風景がよいことをまず擧げており、大都市であり、市民が好きだし、産業が發達しているからというのである

早生みかん
育生に二十年 甘味は十分の

日本みかんは今年二百万箱位輸出される筈で主要な輸出品の一つだが、輸出期間を長くするために過去二十年に亘つて研究し育てあげられた早生みかんが既報の如く十月末に晩香坡に荷揚げされ、その早生みかん輸出につき技術面のことを研究するため、みかん船に同乘して氣温や濕度等の關係を逐一調べてきた靜岡縣柑橘試驗場長農學博士田中[illegible]一郎氏と神奈川縣農事試驗場園藝部長森田克治氏は去る十[illegible]日夜トロントに到着、オタワを訪問した上米國に入ることになつて。兩氏ともこの早生みかんを育てた技術者で、普通の溫州みかんの中に早く熟する枝が出て來たのを取つて接木し、二十年間かゝつて早生みかんに仕上げたのださうで、色は劣るが甘味は十パーセント程度にある。なお日本のみかんの木は戰時中平地の方は伐り倒されたが今や戰前以上の生産となり、アップルの豐富さと共に秋の果實として日本に飽和し、ぜひとも輸出を增加しなければならぬ事情にあり、來年はカナダのハローインに間に合うように早生みかんを送り出したいと兩氏は語つている

Eight Teams Will Start '52 Toronto Hoop Season

The Toronto Nisei Basketball League will open its 1952-53 season this Friday, Nov. 7, with Rebels facing Junior All-Stars at 9 p.m. and the defending champions, Mustangs, tangling with Whizz Kids at 10 p.m. Lack of players forced Orphans to drop out of the league with the Junior All-Stars stepping in to make a four-team loop, the same set-up as last season.

Junior games will precede the senior tilts, Mustangs Jrs. opening against Club Rhapsody at 7 p.m. and Barons meeting Hamilton at 8 p.m.

Where once the Nisei hoopsters performed in the crammed quarters of the Church of All Nations gym, this year will see them playing their second season at the spacious St. Vladimir's gymnasium on Bathurst St. opposite Western Hospital.

Outstanding players of other years such as Yon Shimizu, Shig Ashikawa, Joe Akiyama, to name several, will not be around but notables such as Herby Miyasaki, considered the top Nisei hoop performer in Canada, Paul Hirano, Maka Makimoto, Aki Hayashi, Yuki Kameoka, and Mush Fukumoto should provide plenty of top notch basketball this coming season. Rookies appear scarce this year but Mustangs have the prize candidate in George Shiozaki.

Fifteen players will be participating in their sixth year or better in the Senior loop, Rebels leading the way with Mossy Mitsui, Jackson Onishi, Roy Kurita, Paul Hirano, Mush Fukumoto, and Tom Miyashita. Whizz Kids have Yuki Kameoka, Fred Miyasaki, Aki Hayashi, Seiji Takata, and Soc Shintani. Mustangs' seasoned vets include the Miyasaki brothers, Herb, Ken, and Roy, and Maka Makimoto.

Quebec JCCA to Enter 'Biddy Basketball' Squad in Mont. Loop

MONTREAL — As part of its youth programme, the Quebec JCCA is planning to enter a team in the Montreal Biddy Basketball League.

"Biddy Basketball" originated in Scranton, Pennsylvania, and has spread like wildfire through 45 states. In Canada it was originated last year under Deputy-Commissioner Joey Richman when an experimental 6-team league was formed in Montreal. The league is being enlarged this year and also has the prospect of vying for the Canadian title with the leagues being formed in B.C. and the Maritimes.

The game is restricted to boys aged ten to thirteen inclusively and is played with a smaller ball on a court scaled down to size. Uniforms are supplied.

The Quebec JCCA's team is now looking for players to fill out the roster. Further information can be received by calling Kiyoshi Suga at LA. 5793 or Sam Toguri at WA. 4674.

Yamashita Heads Mont'l Shuttlers

MONTREAL — Tom Yamashita was elected president of the Montreal Nisei Badminton Club at a meeting held during the regular badminton night, October 17. The meeting and election was chaired by Tom Matsui, past president.

Among the others elected were Jane Kawai, secretary; Chizu Uchida and Toyo Ebata, treasurers. Team captains named were Elizabeth Yamashita and Bernie Yokota. In charge of equipment are Frank Matsubuchi and Muts Suda.

Playing at the new three-court gym of the Van Horne School, this year's club membership will probably be the largest yet. A number of new players, together with the return of nearly all of the old members, give every indication of a very successful season.

Anyone wishing to learn or to play is invited to turn out on Friday evenings, from 8 p.m. J. K.

CORRECTION

MONTREAL — Dress for the Quebec JCCA Holiday Jamboree to be held on Friday evening, December 26, at Victoria Hall will be Informal-Optional and not semi-formal as publicized recently.

200-Plus Bowlers No Longer Phenomenon In Toronto Majors, Top Teams Keep Pace

There was a time in Nisei 5-pin circles that a consistent 200 bowler was something of a phenomenon. But that's no longer true; even the girls regard the double century as nothing extra remarkable.

In the Toronto Nisei Majors, the improved calibre of Nisei bowling is sharply evident in the kind of scores that are racked up every week and in the averages of the individual bowlers. Majority of the keglers are averaging 200 or better, and more than one-third are no-handicap bowlers, 210 being scratch. A fair crop of them are above 230 regarded in the past as good enough to win individual average honors.

Leading the way last week was veteran Sandy Ono, who returned to the Takeda Insurance fold only two weeks ago, with 900 (373). T. Tanabe and J. Tehara turned in 846 (367) and 814 respectively. Along the 700 trail were K. Ise 751, B. Miyauchi 743, M. Itoshima 739, K. Shimizu 727, J. Takeda 723, R. Nagamatsu 713 (302), J. Nishizaki 712, K. Kuroda 712, T. Shiga 708, S. Takeuchi 707, J. Ito 707, M. Baba 701, and A. Fujibayashi 700.

Top teams were still winning as first-place Takeda Insurance beat Lowe Bros. 5-2, and while Yamada's were shaded the odd point by Du-Rite Cleaners, other contenders, Ascot Cleaners and Spadina Bowling were victors 7-0, 5-2 over Menzies and Alexander, respectively. In other games: Wasser's 7, Sora 0; Radio Vision 5, El Mocambo 2; Stan-Karn 5, T. Uyeda M. B. 2; Lewis 4, Urabe 3.

"LITTLE WHITE LIES"

It seems that I've been holding out on the Powers That Be for quite some time. The chances are that I'll never get past Heaven's Pearly Gates without some co-operation from St. Peter. You see, I tell little white lies. You see, I believe that in certain circumstances, little white lies are necessary and condonable.

I've come round to this line of thinking, not without some unhappy moments. "Honesty is the best policy" is one proverb I accept with certain reservations.

Lest my righteous friends feel that my upbringing was somewhat amiss, let me point out that I was brought up to be honest. It was the one prime requisite in our household, followed closely—very closely—by other awesome and soul-binding traits as respect for one's elders, obedience, cleanliness and promptness.

* * *

In fact honesty was carried to the nth degree in our household. In fact, methinks it was carried a little too far. We were no raving beauties—neither my sister nor I—and that point was brought home to us with religious honesty whenever we were trotted out to meet family friends. Being children who came very late in my mother's life, I guess we were a novelty, and I presume, made it necessary for my mother to introduce us apologetically as "her two rather plain offsprings". "Ko no futari ga", she would say, "uchi no mitaku nai musume dessu." "Mitaku nai", I discovered was a word which meant "homely" in my mother's language.

That was complete honesty on mother's part, but an honesty which developed in us something very close to overwhelming inferiority. One day, I piped up, "But mama, you don't have to tell them we're 'mitaku nai'. They can tell by looking at us!" All I received for my remark was a severe reprimand accompanied by "Why do you make such remarks, child!"

It was a direct question and an embarrassing one. There were so many reasons why, reasons which had in them something of mingled hurt pride, resentment against probing, a defiance, and a kind of reticence against hurting mama even though she had hurt me. I guess I learned then to make replies which were not exactly honest, but near enough to truth to satisfy mama, and yet safeguard my own personal demands for privacy. I guess one would call these replies "little white lies".

* * *

Perhaps "little white lies" are not ethical, but I have found that they are necessary if I am to hang on to my own bit of privacy. They're indispensable when coping with those embarrassing, personal, really "none-of-your-business" questions which are forever being thrown at me.

Perhaps being a woman, one of the very personal questions which rile me is that very tactless remark "How old are you anyway?" Now, that is one question which, as a woman, I feel is my own private business. Before I learned the hard way, I used to laugh such a question off with "Well, I'm almost 30," trusting that my interrogator's native intelligence would know that I couldn't be 30. But I should have known that anyone who was capable of asking such a question had no native intelligence. It came back to me that I was old enough to be my own mother, or someone else's wife. And for any natural prank I happened to fall into, I was reprimanded with "You should know better, at your age!" Then I developed a kind of fixed toothy smile. If I said nothing, I figured to myself, I wouldn't open my mouth to put my foot in it. But one can't go on forever, passing out toothy smiles. And somewhere about that time, I lost a front tooth which made that strategy useless. My newest answer—and one which isn't by all means perfect, but will do for the time being—is to look into their inquisitive eyes and say, "How old do YOU want me to be?" Nothing like being accommodating, you know.

* * *

Then, there's another prying question which I believe is highly unforgivable. Girls who have been earning a living for a fair number of years, who are independent and resourceful, and are still single, are bound to get this "My, you must be loaded! You must be making money hand over fist!" I must admit I wasn't very smart at the beginning. I used to say "O sure, just loaded. I've got so much money I don't know what to do with it. I hoard it in tobacco tins under my bed!" But the "much-too-eager-to-believe" manner with which my rude friends glanced at my new suit or new fur jacket which, confidentially took me 12 months to pay off, made me stop that tactic. Now I tell a little white one like "Oh, I'm not making as much as I would like to [illegible]" and if they pursue the subject further, I usually bumble in my collar or [illegible] my long-suffering nose furiously, making comments about how strange it is that my hayfever is reacting again!

Then, there's the "How much did you pay for it?" which greets every new purchase I happen to be displaying. My reply, "More than I expected to pay for it," is a perfect example of a wee white lie. It serves whether I have paid $1.98 in Eaton's Bargain Basement or $100.00 at exclusive Holt Renfrew's. The nosey gal is none the wiser and I've answered her question. And it usually is true that I end up paying more than I had expected to in the first place.

And then there's the inevitable, fatherly question which spoils an erstwhile lovely evening. "My, a nice girl like you! Why aren't you married?" Now, that is a point which is my own private business. And I say quite airily, without any loss of dignity or without breaking a friendly [illegible] "No one's asked me lately!"

And so I'm guilty of telling little white lies. And I guess I'll go on telling them as long as [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] hold back at [illegible] [illegible] that all these [illegible] [illegible] the right and [illegible] the same side of St. Peter's Gate.

ACROSS MY MIND ...

By Jack Nakamoto

With all the development of natural resources going on in Canada and big-time operators making money hand over fist, it's to be wondered if a little man might also have a chance to speculate and share in the wealth accrued from buying stocks.

It doesn't seem wise for one who has very little or no knowledge of the speculation game to go it alone—especially when he can't afford to lose the small pile he has managed to make over a period of years. He has to be always wary of swindlers who lie in wait for his hard-earned money; he has to choose an active stock, buy it for a rise or sell it for a drop at the right moment. At best, it's still a big gamble for him.

Perhaps as was suggested by Toyo Takata in his "Weekly Habit" column recently, a co-operative group can be formed whereby each member advances a small sum of money to a pool. He is thus enabled to invest and is provided with the additional benefits of financial safeguard and moral support.

The group, of course, would check that the broker with whom it's going to deal is licensed by a Securities Commission, an organization established for the purpose of protecting the public. Whether it is buying of stocks for investment or for short-range speculation, a thorough check must also be made of the character of the men behind the company selling shares. And such a company in order to sell shares must have permission from the Commission.

Instead of staking a lump sum on one stock, perhaps the accumulated fund could be split for investment in several companies. Stocks could be bought on margin; only a small percentage of the value of the stock would be bought and the balance would be paid by a broker who would charge on the balance as a loan.

If a group invests in various stocks the law of averages would diminish the risk of loss.
